What is the PRO ONE project all about?

Peter Ponzil - I've been involved in the design of saxophones since the early 80's with companies in France and Germany. Since leaving Germany in 1993, many ideas have gone through my head that had not been realized. The PRO ONE project is the expression of those ideas

PORTNEY

Long considered a standard for American clarinetists, the Portnoy Bb clarinet mouthpiece produce a wonderfully focused tone and yet is very free blowing. Great for the symphony or chamber hall, the Portnoy clarinet mouthpiece has been the most recommended step-up mouthpiece since its release.

The BP02 is the original model that made B Portnoy famous. The BP02 has a good tone and provides easy blowing, and has been used in bands and orchestras by professionals for years. If the player has been playing clarinet for a while and wants the best, then the BP02 is probably the better choice. It's the most popular.

The BP01 has a more closed opening and may work better for a smaller bite or beginner clarinetist and the The BP03 is more open and better for doublers.

Rovner Ligatures incorporate an old idea for creating natural sound softly holding the reed to the mouthpiece with no pressure points, just as if the reed were tied on with a string. Because there are no pressure points or rigid constraints on the reed, the reed seats evenly to the facing of the mouthpiece, thereby reducing stiffness and increasing tonal clarity. These features contribute to the playing characteristics for which Rovner Ligatures are famous; even scales, accurate intonation and control.

THE ROVNER STAR SERIES LIGATURE

Born out of a desire for "better performance and a simpler design delivered at a less cost", the Star Series ligature epitomizes the "less is more" theory behind Rovner's next generation products. It's beauty is in its simplicity and in it's extraordinary low price! Resonant and free-playing, this ligature uses a standard cap so is supplied without a Rovner cap. Now Rovner innovation is affordable to most every player.

THE ROVNER "VERSA X" LIGATURE

The Versa-X is the latest in Rovner's line of Next Generation ligatures, featuring our patented Mass-Loaded Technology. Borrowing from its Next Generation forebears, it features Rovner's unique Resonating Ribs and takes the Mass-Loaded Legacy cradle up another notch. In fact, the Versa-X has the unique honor of earning two patents, since it also utilizes the flap design of the original Versa ligature. With the flaps over the cradle, you get a rich, dark, focused sound with evenness of scale and incredible ease of play. Tuck the flaps underneath and you get all this, plus even greater projection and a more brilliant tone. The choice is yours. The Versa-X is the ultimate in versatility.

ROV X Versa model MK2. Including Cap. All sizes.

£56.40

THE ROVNER "VERSA" LIGATURE

For both clarinets and saxophones, this ligature embodies much of the tonal "center" of a good metal ligature, but with the flexibility and freedom that are the hallmark of Rovner Ligatures. Great sonority reigns in the bottom two-thirds of the low register. Notes that normally buzz irritatingly achieve a new level of tonal purity. Register breaks take place with nearly the same ease as movement to adjacent notes. Many reeds that wouldn't play are instantly turned into performers. The depth of sound of this ligature reveals how all other ligatures are shallow-sounding

THE ROVNER VAN GOGH LIGATURE

This latest addition to Rovner's line of Next Generation products is 30-50% taller than a standard ligature, and features Rovner's patented Mass Loaded Technology with unique Resonating Ribs. The extra height enables the Van Gogh to grasp almost the entire heel of the reed, eliminating "pinch points" that restrict vibration, and also preventing reed warp. This Rovner ligature on steroids offers a BIG but controllable sound, with excellent response, projection and intonation. It responds to simple adjustments that vary the tone, providing freedom from the paradigm of dark or bright.

ROV VG Platinum model. Including Cap. All sizes.

£60.60

THE ROVNER "PLATINUM" LIGATURE

No other ligature has a big, warm, and responsive tone with such a phenomenal degree of control. Played softly or loudly, this ligature yields a tremendous evenness of scale in the most effortless manner. Capable of converting a thin, bodiless sound into one with substance and warmth, this ligature will amaze with its performance. It will bolster and solidify the lower register of both clarinets and saxes; and enhance facility and response on the very bottom notes of sax.

LÉGÈRE REEDS

Légère Reeds produces premium synthetic Clarinet and Sax reeds. They are used by players in the world's most prestigious orchestras, including both the Berlin and Vienna Philharmonic Orchestras, as well as top session pros in New York and Los Angeles. They produce a big, rich sound, but have all the advantages of a synthetic, instant response, consistent, reliable, tough and long lasting.

LÉGÈRE CLARINET REEDS

Légère reeds are available for virtually all Clarinets and have a beautiful tone and range, together with all the normal advantages of a synthetic reed. There are two cuts for Bb Clarinet, Classic and Signature.

LÉGÈRE CLASSIC REEDS

The Classic (original) cuts are designed for a darker sound and generally used by the classical musician.

LÉGÈRE SIGNATURE REEDS

Designed to the most exacting specifications, these reeds deliver all the depth and warmth that elite players demand. The new Signature Series Reeds are the ideal solution for elite players looking for that something extra who haven't yet found the perfect sound with our other reeds. Months of testing with top professionals including Larry Combs and Barnaby Robson have demonstrated that the new reeds can add another dimension to the already rich Legere sound. Mr. Combs, former Principal Clarinet in Chicago, has said that the new reeds "feel and sound very natural."

LÉGÈRE OBOE REED - New for 2016

Designed by Guy Lègère in a collaboration with Christoph Hartmann of the Berlin Philharmonic, these reeds will last for months with proper care, providing a beautiful tone with no pre-moistening required.

Top symphonic and jazz musicians have been using the Lègère single reeds for more than a decade. From the principals of the Berlin and Vienna Philharmonic orchestras, to jazz greats like Gerald Albright and Hamiet Bluiett, our reeds have been tested at the highest possible level. Now this same exceptional quality is available in a Lègère oboe reed.

The Lègère European Scrape Oboe reeds have been specifically designed to work for instruments and players that have used European scrape cane reeds in the past

At present, we are only making oboe reeds in one strength, and we do not recommend scraping or adjusting Lègère reeds in any way.

We use an o-ring system to ensure a good fit between the reed and the well, but this system is a bit less flexible than conventional cork. Some players have had fit issues with older instruments, but our reeds should fit most oboe wells.

LÉGÈRE BASSOON REEDS

About the most radical development in bassoon reed technology in the last 100 years

Top symphonic and jazz musicians have been using the Légère single reeds for more than a decade. From the principals of the Berlin and Vienna Philharmonic orchestras, to jazz greats like Gerald Albright and Hamiet Bluiett, our reeds have been tested at the highest possible level. Now this same quality is available in a Bassoon reed.

Like our single reeds, Légère bassoon reeds have all the depth and warmth that elite players demand. Because they are made from our specially prepared synthetic material, they deliver all the advantages of a traditional Légère reed: consistency, durability and an instant response.

Légère reeds are made from polypropylene, which is approved by the FDA for use in direct food contact applications, so our reeds are completely safe to use. For more information, see our Materials page

Légère bassoon reeds are cut from our own unique polymer on 3-axis, computer controlled precision cutting machines. We can also measure our reeds with extreme precision using computer controlled equipment, and this allows us to maintain very tight quality control.

The reeds are cut in halves using our own customized profiles which are based on a mathematical description of a reed profile rather than a model or prototype. The halves are then bonded together again using a digitally controlled system. The result is a reed which is perfectly balanced in both blades, and has just the right combination of tip thickness, heart, and flexibility.

LÉGÈRE Viib REED

The viib By Légère is designed to work seamlessly with Nuvo instruments Clarinéo, jSax and the DooD.

Like all Légère reeds, the viib is easy to use, lasts a long, long time, and provides unmatched playability and tone quality for players of all skill levels (beginners to advanced!)

Just like a full-sized saxophone or clarinet, the performance of your Nuvo instrument depends on the reed you choose. At Légère, we have been making reeds since 1998 and we've learned a few things along the way. While the Nuvo reeds supplied with your instrument can provide a good start, a Légère reed will help a beginning player achieve the best possible sound and fall in love with playing music.
